

Top Events Planned For County Fair

The 33rd annual Lake County Fair and 4-H Club Show Week starts Wednesday, July 26, and continues through five days and nights, including Sunday, July 30, Ray T. Nicholas, Lake County Farm Adviser, reminded residents today.

The fair will be held at the Lake County Fair Grounds located on Route 45, one-half mile north of Route 120.

The Lake County Exposition is now recognized as one of the top county fairs in Illinois, and among the top in the entire nation. More than 50 acres of land are available for the industrial, educational, and commercial exhibits, the huge midway and for parking.

While the Lake County Fair still maintains the flavor of the old county fair with its livestock, crops, and homemaker arts exhibits, it has kept up with the latest progress in making this an outstanding exposition for everyone. From one end of the vast expanse of grounds to the other, there will be exhibits and attractions. The midway, with its many rides and booths, will provide a sparkling carnival atmosphere. The best in purebred pedigree stock will be found at the Lake (continued on page 7)

Citizens Group To Help Form County Budget

For the first time in Lake County history a citizens' advisory committee will participate in formulating the county's annual budget, which involves a figure between $4,000,000 and $7,000,000. This committee will begin to function in August when hearings on the 1962 budget will begin.

Normally the annual budget is fixed exclusively by the Finance Committee of the Board of Supervisors. It is based on estimates of expenses for the ensuing year submitted by all tax supported agencies within the county. Once published, no amendments or changes are possible. By participating in preliminary hearings and discussions of the many items constituting the final budget for 1962, the Citizens' Budgetary Advisory Committee, it is believed, will be able to offer suggestions which can achieve economies and a more efficient fiscal program than under the previous procedures.

The committee, as yet unnamed, is the outgrowth of a letter from Dwight Ingram of Lake Forest, newly elected president of the Lake County Civic League to August Cepon, chairman of the County Board's Finance Committee.

Members of the Citizens' Advisory Committee will be named by Cepon sometime during the month of July, according to an authority in his office.

Youth, 17, Dies In Truck Crash

Lars G. Ljungholm, 17, of Chicago, was killed instantly at 7:20 p.m., July 5 when his automobile collided with a trailer truck on Rt. 45 at Wilmet Road near Bristol.

The youth was enroute to the Salvation Army Camp at Camp Lake. He was driving west on Wilmet Road when his auto crashed into the side of the semi-trailer truck driven by Kurt E. Schatz, 51, of Milwaukee.

Urge Assistance To Curb Spread Of Dutch Elm Here

Although a cool spring held back the appearance of Dutch elm, the dreaded disease continues its inroads in Antioch and vicinity.

A check with Edgar S. Simonsen, superintendent of public works, reveals that there are a dozen or more trees on village property slated to be taken down in the near future.

Simonsen estimates there are well over 200 elm trees within the village limits, all faced with eventual destruction by the beetle-borne disease unless a positive cure is uncovered in the immediate future. To date there is no known cure.

Best guarantee against Dutch elm disease, however, is a healthy, well-pruned tree.

Due to the fact that the spring was comparatively cool, the elm bark beetle which carries the disease did not emerge as early as usual. The majority of the beetles emerged from dead elm wood during the week of June 12, some two-

Wrong-Lane Driver Kills 2 In Crash

E. Lincoln Turner, 31, of Cross Lake, died at 8:25 p.m. Saturday in St. Therese hospital from injuries received three hours earlier when a pickup truck which he was driving was struck by a gravel truck speeding on the wrong side of the road. A passenger in Turner's truck, Clayton Dean, 49, of 123 Fairlawn, Round Lake Park, was killed instantly when he was thrown from the pickup in the crash.

Driver of the gravel truck, Clyde A. Mueller, 29, 1325 Dundee Rd., Algonquin, was not injured.

The accident occurred on Rt. 120 near Sear's road. According to the sheriff's report, Mueller was going east on 120 and swung out to the left to pass two cars halted at the intersection awaiting traffic to clear. As Mueller's truck swung out, Turner's truck appeared from the east. Both trucks veered to the roadside, where Mueller's truck struck the pickup, smashing it against a tree.

Mueller was booked for driving in the wrong lane.

Turner was born Jan. 4, 1930, in Racine, Miss. He came to Antioch in 1951 and had lived here in Lake Villa and Kenosha since that time. He married Dorothy Brady in Booneville, Miss., May 23, 1953.

He was a member of the Local 839, District Council of Carpenters, and was a carpenter for Foremost Homes in Prospect Heights.

Survivors include his widow, a son, David Alan, 4; two daughters, Donna Lee, 7, and Debra Sue, 2; four brothers, Douglas, service station proprietor at Antioch; Arthur, Charles and Dale, all of Guntown, Miss.; seven sisters—Mrs. Louise Pate and Miss Bette Turner, both of Kenosha; Mrs. Addie Pettiglo, Miss Beatrice Johnson, Miss Mae Turner, Miss Ann Turner, and Miss Lucille Turner, all of Guntown, Miss.; his parents, Harley and Marie Turner; and paternal grandmother, Mrs. Jim Turner, also of Guntown. Special services were held Monday at Strang's Funeral Home, Antioch. Services were to be held later this week at Baldwin, Miss., with burial in Oak Grove Cemetery there.

The deaths of Turner and Dean brought Lake County's traffic toll to 43, 18 above last year's fatalities.

State Cracks Down On Erring Drivers

In a crackdown on driving infractions, the Driver's License Division of the Secretary of State has announced the lifting of licenses of Richard J. Schrimpf, Rt. 2, Box 126, Antioch, and Edwin E. Berg, Fox Lake Hills, Lake Villa.

Schrimpf's license was revoked for driving while intoxicated, and Berg's license was suspended for three violations, the division announced.

Several Round Lake drivers were subjected to punitive action by the division for three violations. They are: Rogers E. Parkinson, James Witt and Ralph D. Winters, Robert T. Rose, Ingleside, and John M. Schwenn, Round Lake Beach, also had licenses suspended for three violations.

three weeks later than usual. This new infection caused by these beetles will come later than normal.

Most of the trees showing touches of the disease are those that became infected late last year, probably in August and September. Symptoms of infection are not easily noticed in the fall when leaves are turning color.

Symptoms of Dutch elm disease are wilting, yellowing and dying leaves on one or more branches of elm trees. When bark of infected branches is peeled, there are broken streaks under the bark.

Residents noting any sick-looking elms should report them to their village or town officials. The trees will then be sampled and checked to determine if the disease is present.

Elms that are affected should be removed as soon as possible to help keep the disease from spreading.

Former AHS Honor Student Ghana-Bound in Peace Corp

A former Antioch resident and graduate of Antioch Township High School will leave this fall for Ghana, West Africa, in the leading vanguard of volunteers who have been selected and specially trained for service in the newly-formed Peace Corps.

Howard R. Ballwanz, 24, of 1169 Sprucewood Lane, Libertyville, left Sunday for special training at the University of California in Berkeley for eight weeks before proceeding to his post at the University College of Ghana at Legon, Ghana, for another month of training for his assignment as a secondary school teacher in that country.

Ballwanz is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Ballwanz. He graduated from Antioch Township High School with honors in 1955 and was awarded a scholarship at Northern Illinois University where he received a bachelor of science degree last year. He was awarded a science key at NIU and has earned credits toward his master's degree.

Before volunteering for the Peace Corps he served as a geography, social science and mathematics teacher in Sterling, Ill.

He was among some 40 of 600-odd applicants to be initially accepted as a member of the Volunteer Peace Corps organized by President John Kennedy to aid in the training and education of residents of backward countries. R. Sargent Shriver, Jr., the president's brother-in-law, is national director of the group.

Ballwanz has no illusions about his new role and feels "it is time to stop talking about America's role in today's world and start doing something about it. I think the Peace Corps is a possible answer to what we can do for world neighbors."

According to Shriver, who described the training of Corps members in a recent speech before the Student National Education Association, Ballwanz and fellow volun-

Printing Does Have Certain Hazards

Local playboys will have to travel south to Chicago should they desire the company of so-called "B girls."

This fact became more and more apparent this week as the result of a classified advertisement in the Female Help Wanted column of last week's Antioch News.

In an advertisement for Wally's Channel Inn seeking a waitress for evening work, we inadvertently listed as "B-B—Waitress—Work evenings, apply in person, etc."

It should have read "Waitress—work evenings, etc." The News uses the code "B" for help wanted and "B" for female. Thus the ad was coded "BB". This code, or slug line, serves as a quick identification for our make-up men and is thrown out when the ad is inserted.

Alas, it wasn't done this time. Result—Wally has been deluged by phone calls of jokesters and serious playboys—all inquiring about "B girls."

Ray Toft Named To City Board

Fills Spot Vacated By J. Blackman

Ray Toft, local businessman, has been appointed to the Village Board of Trustees by Village President Murrill Cunningham.

Toft was appointed to fill the vacancy created by the resignation last month of John Blackman. The appointment was made at last week's meeting of the board and was unanimously approved by the board. Mayor Cunningham also named Toft chairman of the police committee, formerly headed by Herman Holbek.

Toft, proprietor of Ray's Shell Service, has been mentioned as a prospective appointee since Blackman resigned June 6, citing the press of his contractor business as the reason of his action. Blackman heads his own concrete contracting business.

The new appointee put up a strong race in April 18 elections as an independent, and ran close on the heels of the People's Party ticket, headed by Cunningham.

Toft has lived in the area for 32 years, is the father of two children and active in civic affairs. He served on the grade school board, is a member of the Lions, an organizer on the Auxiliary Police Force and a member of the Fire Department.

Other appointments made by Cunningham: Trustee H. Roger Williams, chairman of streets and lighting committee; Trustee Edmund F. Vos, chairman of public buildings, salaries, finance and playgrounds, and industrial development committees; E. H. Glenn, sewer and water; David Nissen, surface water and fire department; and Herman Holbek, licenses, printing and publishing.

The famed Cole Circus will show in Antioch Friday, Aug. 4, as a feature of Maxwell Street Sales Days, Aug. 3-4-5, for a one-day stand sponsored by the Antioch Chamber of Commerce.

The announcement of the circus and sale was made today by Chamber secretary John L. Horan. The circus is celebrating its 51st year in bringing circus entertainment to both children and adults. On the morning of Aug. 4 into the Village will come the fleet of 20 trucks that house more than 100 animals, 40 performers, and tons of equipment and tentage carried by the circus.

Erection of the first tents on the Village parking lot will begin at about 7 a.m., circus officials said.

The public is invited to the show-grounds to watch the big elephants help in setting up the show. Afternoon and night performances are scheduled.

Merchants Plan 'Maxwell Street' Sale Aug. 3-5

The merchants and business houses of Antioch will present a "Maxwell Street" sale Aug. 3-4-5, it was announced today by the Chamber of Commerce.

Initial planning for the three-day event was done Tuesday at a meeting of the Chamber's retail division consisting of Russell Barnstable, Stanley W. Toton, president, Marion Pecheusek, Robert Calloway and executive secretary John L. Horan.

This will be the third annual sale of this type in the Village. During the sale, stalls and counters will be set out on Main Street sidewalks in a style reminiscent of the famed Maxwell Street of Chicago's near west-side. Here merchants will display sale merchandise.

Featured with the sale days will be the appearance of Cole Brothers famous circus with two performances scheduled for Friday, Aug. 4.

Class of '36 To Assemble

Members of the class of 1936, Antioch Township High School, including one as far distant as Saudi Arabia, will gather here on July 22 for their 25th class reunion.

Planning for the event has been under way for several months with some 25 of a class of 52 to date indicating plans to attend the affair at Joe & Helen's Little Acres at Loon Lake.

Paul Richey, son of Mrs. Rubie Richey, a teacher at the high school during the '30's, is stationed at Saudi Arabia, as chief engineer for the Standard Oil Co., and has sent word that he may be able to attend the affair. Others from New York, California, Florida, and Texas are expected to join classmates from this area at the reunion.

Planning arrangements is a volunteer committee of Bruce and Lena Dalgaard, Richard and Lillian Burnette, Mr. and Mrs. Homer White, all of Antioch, and Mrs. Florence Dunford Dexter, of Trevor.

The last reunion of the class was for its 20th anniversary, held in 1956 at Lorenz Smart Country House; 26 attended the affair.

Two members of the class are deceased, Elaine Schultz and Glenn Griffin.

In disclosing plans for the reunion July 22 Homer White said that reservations may still be made by class members, and urged all to attend. Festivities will open at 6 p.m. with a social gathering followed by dinner at 7 p.m.

Wise Words From the Past

We don't know who said it, but it's worth repeating:
 "If you want your father to take care of you, that's paternalism."
 "If you want your mother to take care of you, that's maternalism."
 "If you want Uncle Sam to take care of you, that's socialism."
 "If you want your comrades to take care of you, that's communism."
 "But — if you want to take care of yourself, that's Americanism."

A century and more ago, such phrases as "socialism-communism-welfare state" were not known. But the philosophy they describe was — and have been all through recorded history. And some of the greatest Americans warned telling against its dangers.

Abraham Lincoln said: "The legitimate object of government is to do for a community of people whatever they need to have done, but cannot do at all, or cannot so well do, for themselves, in their separate and individual capacities. In all that people can individually do as well for themselves, government ought not to interfere."

Long before that, Thomas Jefferson expressed the same philosophy in other words:

"I place economy among the first and most important virtues, and public debt as the greatest of dangers to be feared. To preserve our independence, we must make our choice between economy and liberty or profusion and servitude. If we run into such debts, we must be taxed in our meat and drink, in our necessities and our comforts, in our labors and in our amusements. If we can prevent the government from wasting the labors of the people, under the pretense of caring for them, they will be happy."

"We can profit, if we will, from these wise words of the past."

Death on the Wheel

Will Rogers had the right idea when he said a few years before his untimely death — "the only motorists who ought to be allowed to drive are those whose cars are paid for."

That would immediately eliminate nine-tenths of the irresponsible, speed-minded drivers who in the confines of their bed and board resemble Casper Milquetoasts. Put them in control of several hundred horses, however, and they'll growl, put their foot to the floor and bulldoze their way come hell or high water.

What is it that turns many an otherwise responsible person into a maniac once he gets behind the wheel? Gone are thoughts of time, leisure, courtesy, judgment and respect for others.

"Pour it on, pal, and let's get moving. Get outta my way, bum. The highway's mine and I'm aiming to take it."

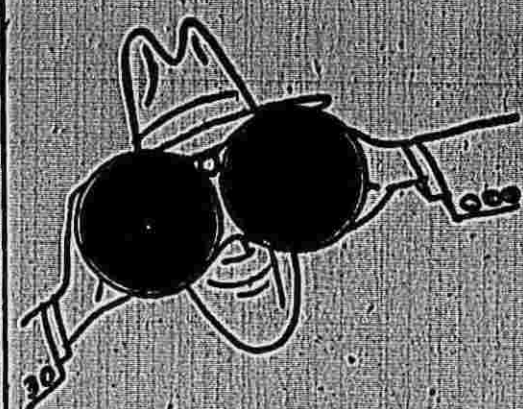

The Fourth of July has come and gone and all drivers, qualified or not, who braved the road over the four-day weekend are suitable candidates for campaign stars signifying their participation in the battle of the highways.

The score — 519 killed on the field of battle.

In view of the risks involved, that planned trip to see Aunt Min hardly seems worth the dangers involved.

Let's Be First This Time

Space communication is up for grabs on a first-come-first-served basis.

Despite an acknowledged lead in this field as exemplified by Project Echo — an aluminum-coated plastic balloon placed into orbit last year — this country stands a chance of playing second-fiddle to Russia and having to send any space communications over their equipment.

This is a definite possibility. But it can be resolved in this country's favor if President Kennedy makes several "right" decisions in the weeks ahead.

World wide communications are now handled by international common carriers who deal with communications agencies in 163 foreign countries. As it stands now, three frequencies are available for space communications. These frequencies will be controlled by that country which is able to win the race in establishing a system of space communications.

For some time, decisions as to whether work on this system should proceed by private organizations such as AT & T under U. S. regulation or as a government project have bogged down in a policy "hassle" which could result in this country losing its lead in this field.

President Kennedy finally has placed the matter in the hands of the newly-formed National Aeronautics and Space Council with orders that it report back by the end of the month as to how and who should establish the system.

Experienced business can do the job quicker, better and less expensive than the government. Yet there is a good chance that the government agency will decide not only to launch it, but to run it.

The one area in which America is undoubtedly ahead of Russia is in the art of communications. This has been proven.

Private industry has already proved that it can handle space communications. It has already come forth with two basic systems.

One, proposed by AT&T, would consist of a network of 40-50 satellites in random orbits 7,000 miles in space. AT&T says its system could be in operation by 1965 at a cost of $170 million.

A second, proposed by a team composed of Radio Corp. of America, General Telephone & Electronics Corp., and Lockheed Aircraft Corp., proposes three big satellites in fixed positions 23,000 miles in space. This system would cost $260 million and would be in operation by 1970.

So why the delay in a government decision?

"Only a few frequencies are technically suitable for international communications via satellites," say informed sources. "If the Russians get their satellite system up first and hog these frequencies, we could find ourselves in a position of having to lease sorely needed channels from them."

"The fees probably would be excessive, and almost certainly we could expect the Russians to monitor — and — eavesdrop — all calls placed through their own equipment."

This country would still have its means of international communication. But experts say that with increased traffic these will only be able to handle telegraphic communications within a few years.

The government must set a policy and fast. It has three choices:

1. Should the communications satellites be owned by the government like the postal system.

2. If not, should one firm, or team of firms, be given a monopoly.

3. Or should the field be thrown open to all comers, in the traditional American manner of free competition?

We favor the latter. If you do, we advise an immediate letter—not to your Senator or Representative—but direct to the White House. You have only until July 30 to speak your piece in this important matter.

CHANNEL LAKE—The favorable weather Saturday and Sunday brought out a large turnout to make the picnic sponsored by the Woodcrest Subdivision Association a big success. Refreshments, games and races for the children as well as the adults, kept the crowd entertained. One of the major prizes, an aluminum boat, was won by Mildred Siedschlag. A vote of appreciation from subdivision residents was given president Francis Horsch and his hardworking trustees and helpers for their handling of the picnic. Funds raised by their efforts go to maintain subdivision roads and other improvements.

SHOULDER ARMS IN THE CIVIL WAR

Most men and boys are interested in firearms and the rifles of the Civil War are very interesting to me. When I visited the Gettysburg National Museum I spent most of my time at the firearms display. Shoulder arms of the Civil War were of two main types, muzzle-loading, and breech-loading.

The muzzle-loading rifles at the start of the Civil War numbered about 250,000 including about 10,000 of the new Springfield rifled muskets. To fire the rifle the soldier would take a cartridge and ram it down the barrel with a ramrod, then he would put on a percussion cap. This required several seconds to do. When the hammer hit the cap, fire rushed down into the chamber igniting the powder charge, shooting a Minie ball through the barrel. Many soldiers in battle often loaded their rifles and didn't fire them. After a battle it was not uncommon if you picked up a musket and it had three or more cartridges in it.

Many men made their own Minie balls before a battle. They would take and pour hot lead into a mold and let it cool. After a while men started to make conversions from rifles and muskets. A very good one was the Joslyn conversion.

The breech-loading rifles were the Sharps, Spencer, and Henry. The Sharps carbine appeared in 1859. It was a .54 caliber weapon. A man could fire 8 or 10 times a minute. In cover, to load, if enough Union men had been armed with this rifle, the Civil War might have ended at Gettysburg.

The Spencer .55 caliber rifle, model 1860, was, as Army and Navy experts saw it, even better than the Sharps carbine. Through the Civil War the Government bought about 94,000 of these, mostly cavalry carbines.

The Henry rifle wasn't offered until 1862. In all, there were about 10,000 in action. Its magazine held 15 shots. It had bad points as a military firearm. A dented magazine could cripple it and the firing pin often broke at bad moments.

The South's arms were mostly captured Union arms. But still they never had enough. So, no doubt, the fact that the North had more and better firearms helped to bring the Civil War to a close.

New Minister Assumes Duties In Lindenhurst

LINDENHURST—The Rev. Lawrence M. Bouldin and family moved into their new residence on Beck Road in Lindenhurst during this past week. The Rev. Bouldin has been assigned by the Illinois Conference of the Evangelical United Brethren Church to organize and serve the congregation of the denomination's newest mission church in the state.

In cooperation with member denominations of the Illinois Council of Churches and the Church Federation of Greater Chicago, the EUB Church was directed by the Church Development Commission to organize a parish in the Lindenhurst area to serve the Protestant population there. Initial steps toward the organization of such a church, taken about a year ago, have led to the purchase of property on Beck Road in Lindenhurst and to the construction of a residence for the minister and his family.

With the appointment of Mr. Bouldin to be organizing pastor of the church, a program is launched which will lead to the erection of the first unit of the church building. It is anticipated that in the months while the church is being organized, the congregation will meet for worship and Sunday school in the Hooper School on Beck Road. Worship services are tentatively scheduled to begin about the middle of September. In the remaining weeks of the summer, the Rev. Bouldin will visit in the homes of the community and meet informally with small groups of interested persons to discuss the organization of the church.

Mr. Bouldin, his wife and son, come to the Lindenhurst appointment from previous pastoral experience in the Evangelical United Brethren Church in Batavia, Ill., and as assistant minister at the Community Presbyterian Church in Clarendon Hills, Ill. He is a graduate of Trinity College, Hartford, Conn., and of the Evangelical Theological Seminary in Naperville, Ill.

All who are interested in learning more about the new church are invited to call the pastor at his residence on Beck Road Elliot 6-6861.

Methodists Reappoint Pastors To Churches

The Rev. Wallace R. Anderson, Antioch, and the Rev. Gerald B. Robinson, Lake Villa, have been appointed pastors to their churches for the coming year.

The action was taken at the Methodist Rock River conference concluded recently in Evanston.

The Rev. Anderson is the pastor of the Antioch Methodist Church; the Rev. Robinson is pastor of the Lake Villa Community Methodist Church.

The conference heard its superintendents urge human need as the basis of the work of its churches. Dr. Randolph C. Miller, of Yale University, suggested the church work out a ministry to the family as a unit.

The conference also created a new staff position, an executive secretary for missions work, and named Dr. R. Merrill Powers, of Aurora, to the post. Dr. Powers is a former district superintendent and chaplain to ex-President Eisenhower.

Dr. Amos A. Thornburg, of Chicago, was named superintendent for the northern district, and Dr. Merlyn W. Northfelt, of Lake Bluff, superintendent for the Rockford district.

Miss Edna Otto Weds Lyle Schalow In Father's Church In Wilmot

By Mrs. Herman Frank

WILMOT, Wis.—Edna Dorothea Otto and Lyle F. Schalow are preparing to make their home in Arlington, Minn., following their honeymoon in the Black Hills.

The young couple were married in a double-ring afternoon ceremony June 25 at Peace Evangelical Lutheran Church in Wilmot.

An added highlight of the ceremony was the presence of the bride's father, the Rev. R. P. Otto, pastor of the church, who not only gave his daughter in marriage, but assisted the Rev. T. P. Bradtke with the ceremony.

For her wedding, the bride made her gown of ivory satin with chantilly lace overskirt accented by satin panel embroidered with lace and seed pearls. She wore an elbow length veil with pearl tiara and carried a white Bible covered with lilies of the valley and a white orchid.

She was attended by Mrs. John Kroll, the groom's sister, as matron of honor, who was gowning in white chiffon over taffeta with lilac cummerbund. The bridesmaids—Mrs. Howard Schalow, Jr., Mrs. Ronald Schalow, Miss Linda Rausch and Miss Lois Stuebs—wore gowns matching that of the matron of honor with contrasting cummerbunds.

They carried sprays of African lilies and stephanotis.

The bride's mother wore an embroidered gown of orchid taffeta with orchid and white accessories. The groom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Schalow, of Marshfield, Wis., was attended by Mr. John Kroll, best man, with Howard Schalow, Jr., Ronald Schalow, and Carl Otto as ushers.

His mother was gowning in light gray chantilly lace over pink taffeta. She wore an orchid.

Mr. Schalow attended Dr. Martin Luther College, of New Ulm, Minn., and Theological Seminary of Springfield, Ill. The bride is a graduate of Wilmot High School and Dr. Martin Luther College.

Out-of-town guests for the ceremony were from Milwaukee, West Allis, Wauwatosa, Marshfield, Beaver Dam, Racine, Kenosha, Evanston, Oconomowoc, Kewanee, and Brillion, Wis.

The bride plans to teach in Arlington, where her husband will work.

Report Milk Prices On Chicago Market

Dairy farmers shipping to the Chicago Order 41 market received a minimum of $3.72 per cwt. for base milk and $3.13 per cwt. for excess milk delivered in May to plants within the 55-to 70-mile price basing zone, Harry L. Edwards, director of marketing, Pure Milk Association, reported last week.

The prices reported by Edwards are for milk of 3.5 percent butterfat test. The differential for each one-tenth of 1 percent of butterfat above or below 3.5 percent is 7.3 cents per cwt.

In addition to these prices, most dairy farmers received a minimum bulk tank payment of 15 cents per cwt. on bulk milk shipped to market to help compensate them for their heavier investment in equipment and quality production. In some areas farmers received additional marketing adjustments, such as location premiums.

The minimum Federal order price as announced by the market administrator for May, were $3.53 per cwt. for base and $3.13 per cwt. for excess milk.

Total producer milk delivered under Order 41 in May was 612,136,864 pounds. This was more than 7.3 million pounds or 1.46 percent greater than production for the market in May 1960.

Your State Senator Reports

The final chapter of this series of articles and of the 72nd General Assembly has been written. On June 30, at exactly 12 midnight according to the clock suspended in the rear of the Senate chamber, the Illinois State Senate and House of Representatives adjourned sine die. As this biennial session of our State legislature recedes into history, we reflect upon the various characteristics which distinguished the 72nd from the previous sessions in which your State Senator has served.

This session of the Illinois General Assembly has witnessed a legislative functioning without any strong executive leadership. Governor Kerner has found himself untrained for the job as our state's chief executive. He had neither legislative nor executive experience before his election as governor. The trusted aides whom he engaged were amateurs for the most part.

The most militant attempts at leadership were demonstrated by Mayor Daley whose particular interests were the City of Chicago and the Democratic party. Speaker Paul Powell's special brand of leadership drew filibusters, fistcuffs, all night sessions, and other forms of determined resistance.

Still, the citizens of our State may look with pride to the Illinois Senate where a small but unified band of Republican Senators demonstrated the type of responsible leadership which strengthens our faith in the democratic process. The Republican majority in the Senate was able to reduce many of the large appropriation bills and to defeat many of the tax increase measures which otherwise would have been enacted.

More than 1750 House bills and more than 900 Senate bills have gone across our desks. Night sessions of the House have been the regular order of business. Senate sessions have been more drawn-out than ever before. The failure to reach decisions on many issues of major importance makes the calling of a "Special Session" later this year or early in 1962 almost inevitable.

Members who have been active on the Springfield scene have undergone the experience of passing and "losing" bills. Behind every bill are the "human" hearts and minds of the 58 senators and 177 representatives.

George Schlitz, Rt. 3, Burlington; Oscar Jonas, Rt. 2, Box 448, Watford; Mayor Jack Humble, City Hall, Racine; Mayor A. B. (Rivets) Rewald, City Hall, Burlington; Fabian Montils, 5807-13th Ave., Kenosha.

Within a few days this committee will meet with Mr. Backlin and the members of Congressman Schadeberg's staff to discuss a procedure of proper coordination.

Set Special Study on Law Administration

A conference of criminal court judges was held last week at Northwestern School of Law, Chicago campus.

Such participants as William H. Parker, Los Angeles chief of police, Jim Thompson, Cook County assistant state's attorney, Oliver Gasch, U. S. Attorney for the District of Columbia, and Thomas Flannery, assistant U. S. attorney in Washington, D. C., will discuss crucial issues at the conference.

Fred E. Inbau and Claude R. Sowle, co-directors of the conference, said those issues were:

—Whether or not the police are being handcuffed by the courts and legislatures with respect to police investigative procedures.

—The matter of court and legislative controls regarding prejudicial news coverage of criminal cases.

—The social and ethical obligations of prosecuting attorneys and defense counsel, and the role of the bar, the courts, and the legislatures regarding those obligations.

—The role of the forensic scientist in the administration of criminal justice.

Among the subjects that were discussed were detention and arrest, search and seizure and wiretapping, the interrogation of criminal suspects, and the "social and ethical obligations" of prosecuting and defense attorneys.

The conference is made possible through a Ford Foundation grant. Attendance is limited to judges, legislators, police instructors in police departments and at universities, and law professors. Press coverage is invited.

It takes a heap of living to make a home—and it takes a heap of work to make a living.—Herald, Cartersville, Ga.

Moonlight may be attractive, but it ripens no grain.—Juneau Independent.

representatives. Each member of the 72nd General Assembly has his or her hopes and ambitions. (Yes, we do have two women Senators and five of the "gentler sex" in the House of Representatives.) Each member has enjoyed hours and days of triumph, each has suffered defeats and heart-rending disappointments.

The "hard-shelled politician" is largely a myth when applied to legislators. There is no more sensitive group of public servants in existence. The passage or defeat of every bill brings pride and joy to some member of the General Assembly. The same result leaves other members depressed, dismayed or struggling with a sense of inadequacy and frustration.

The struggle ended—inevitably—when the House and Senate adjourned at midnight Friday, June 30. Many of our Illinois citizens are totally unaware of the drama of the past few months and their lives seem unaffected by the changes in and additions to the State laws. But, the legislators, themselves, have been greatly affected. For many, it was their last session. All of the House members and one-half of the Senators must face re-election before the 73rd Illinois General Assembly convenes in January 1963.

This is the writer's biennial farewell to a series which he hopes has been as informative to read, as it has been helpful and interesting to compose.

STATE BANK OF ANTIOCH...

"THE OLDEST, MOST MODERN BANK IN THE LAKE REGION."

Your Bank Provides You With More — THAN INTEREST ON YOUR MONEY —

THINK IT OVER... A bank does not limit its operations to one specific phase of family finances. Rather, a bank is a "general practitioner" in all money matters that affect a family's financial health.

Every day, except Wednesday and Sunday, hundreds of "family" customers come into the State Bank of Antioch. Most of them have growing savings accounts. But it's not just the guaranteed interest on their money that brings them here. They're secure in the knowledge that they have the ideal combination of safety and availability so essential to building a family's cash reserve.

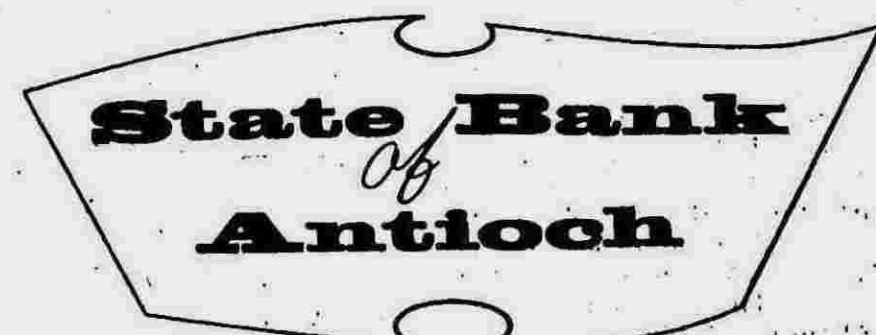

They come for many reasons. It may be to open a checking account... to give a further boost to a vacation account almost ready to use... to finance their current money problem with a low-cost personal loan... or to obtain a convenient bank money order. They come for counsel and advice from officers schooled in family and business money matters. The Christmas Savings Window may be on their list of calls... or their safe deposit box. They may just drop in to meet friends.

Since 1894, families throughout the Lake Region have come to the State Bank of Antioch for many reasons. They come because it is where they have built their security... because of the guaranteed interest return on their savings... because they like the pleasant people who serve them... because they enjoy coming and feel completely at home.

Why not bring your family in for a visit soon... And open a State Bank Savings Account?
